PHYTO COOL-C

Beat the Heat, Stay Productive

HERBAL ELECTROLYTE & COOLING SUPPLEMENT

Overview

PHYTO COOL-C is a premium herbal electrolyte and cooling supplement specially formulated to minimize the adverse effects of heat stress in poultry. The unique combination of electrolytes, organic osmolytes, natural herbal extracts, cooling agents, and antioxidants rapidly restores fluid and electrolyte balance, improves hydration, and helps birds maintain optimum physiological functions during periods of high environmental temperature and humidity. The synergistic action of peppermint oil, menthol, Amla, Tamarind extract, Vitamin C, and essential electrolytes provides an immediate cooling sensation while reducing oxidative stress and dehydration. Regular supplementation helps maintain feed intake, improves growth and egg production, enhances immunity, and supports better flock performance during heat stress and transportation.
